Total sales of stocks were 213,117 shares, including the following: American Tobacco, 3,900; Atchison, 6,100; Sugar, 38,800; Burlington, 5,400; Chicago Gas, 3,500; General Electric, 3,300; Louisville & Nashville, 16,500; Missouri Pacific, 5,700; Pacific Mail, 4,000; Rock Island, 7,400; St. Paul, 21,900; Lake Erie & Western, 4,900.

The stock speculation yesterday was an out-and-out professional affair, with the Ik of the business centering in three industrials and two railroad stocks. The movement of prices was irregular, with a were the feature of the day, but range of fluctuations was in the main narrow. American Tobacco and Sugar were about equally active, recording transactions con-siderably in expss of any of the other shares. The tracing as a whole showed a falling off of about 35,000 shares as compared with yesterday's aggregate. The tone at the opening, in response to slightly higher quotations in London, and moderate repurchases of stocks sold for that account in this market yesterday, was firm and prices were slightly higher. Liquidation soon became apparent, with the result of raids by the bear professionals. The latter contingent selected Leather preferred as a special point of attack, in connection with the publication of unfavorable forecasts of the annual report of operations, in advance of the meeting of the board of directors. The stock declined 2% per cent. The pressure to sell the market abated soon after the end of the first hour, and a purchasing movement in the shorts resulted in rallies, which, in a few instances, were note worthy. Tobacco was marked up 11/4 and Pacific Mail 11/2 per cent. The gains were held in most cases until late in the afternoon, when liquidation in Tobacco set in, apparently for inside account, and carried price down 21/8 per cent. Declines of slight importance occurred in the general market, but Leather preferred dropped 14; Baltimore & Ohio, 1% per cent., and the grangers important fractions, despite a arge increase show in the January net earnings of St. Paul. This was accounted for by the offset presented in the statement of an increase in operating expenses.

The dealings in railway mortgages were less active than of late, and the distribunounced strength was displayed by some of the inactive issues. The fluctuations in the active list were unimportant, and values were well sustained until late in the day, when prices shaded off under the leadership of the Northern Pacines. The aggregate sales were $1,722,000. Government bonds were actively traded in, the dealings footing up $414,000. The market ruled firm at unchanged quotations. LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE. Trade More Satisfactory and Prices Stendy in Most Lines.

All along the line yesterday, wholesale men and the commission merchants talked more cheerfully, and, almost without exception, said that this week had shown a decided improvement in business over the forepart of the month. Prices are more steadier, yet produce of all kinds is selling at a low range. Poultry and eggs, on largely increasing receipts, are weaker. Dry goods prices have become steadier. Wholesale grocers are busy, and changes in roasted grades of coffee will be noticed. Most staple groceries are steady. Canned goods and dried fruits are moving more freely, and there is an improved demand for salted fish. The last few days the provision market has become more active, and prices continue to carry an easy tone, in fact ranging lower than had been looked for in the earlier part of the season. Drugs are firm. Paints and oils are beginning to sell more freely, and oil is firmer. The hardware market is more active. In the local grain market little is doing. Receipts, however, are increasing, but shippers and dealers are bidding with caution Track bids yesterday ruled as follows: Wheat-No. 2 red, 71c; No. 3 red, 66@67c; wagon wheat, 68c.

WHEAT WAS WEAKER

NATURAL REACTION FROM THE SUD-DEN BULGE OF TUESDAY.

Leading Cereal Closed 3-4c Down with Other Grain Weaker and Lower-Pork Stendy.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.-It was a natural and expected reaction from yesterday's bulge. That is the whole story of to-day's wheat market. Wheat was at no time as high as it closed yesterday, and final prices showed a loss of %c. Corn and oats were sympathetically weak, closing %c and 40 lower, respectively. Provisions show but little

In wheat there was a smaller trade, the market having more quiet periods, the range for the session being %c. The feeling developed was rather unsettled and the market rather on a halting, hesitating order, operators acting with more than ordinary caution. The tone at the start was weak and there was quite general selling by holders, who were much disappointed at the tone of Liverpool cables, which came in 4d lower in the face of the advance on this side yesterday. The market there was said to be affected by the free offerings from Russia. Northwestern receipts, too, cut something of a figure, the arrivals in that section being 411 cars, some larger than last week and a year ago. The weather, too, was mild and springlike, and added to the weakness. Under the early selling pressure May, which opened off %@%c at 66%@67%c, sold down to 66%c, but later the market took a sudden upturn. It was reported that twenty-four boatloads had been taken at New York for export, and this, with the report that 100,000 bu had been taken at Duluth for spring shipment, caused some revival of confidence and some good buying, starting prices up, and May advanced to 67½c. The exports made a very fair showing—381,000 bu—and also had a stimulating tendency, 300,000 bu of this amount being in flour. There was a very fair business during the last hour, but a marked disposition to cover at the advance was developed, and the price gradually weakened to 66%c, closing steady at that

Corn was fairly active, but easier, the reaction in wheat and liberal local receipts 4c lower at 30%c, and did not get beyond that price, closing at 30%c. Oats were very dull. May opened %c lower at 21%c, and, influenced by the lower wheat and corn markets, declined to 211/4c, closing easy at that price. Provisions were heavy all day. The large run of hogs caused a weak and lower opening, with no recovery till near the close, when a better demand advanced prices somewhat. At the close pork and ribs showed a loss of 21/2c, lard being un-

From a Broker's View Point.

(Chicago Dispatch to O. H. Faught.) Wheat-Although all foreign cables showed an advance early this morning they did not reflect our full advance of yesterday. The short interest was pretty well eliminated yesterday and a natural reaction ensued at the opening. The bears claimed that the Argentine news of yesterday was too startling to be true and New York advices were to the effect that foreign houses selling had induced some realizing there on the part of longs. Opening prices were at %c decline, but the market rallied and soon rose 1/4c. Commission houses were well supplied with outside buying orders. It is reported that 5,000 bushels cash wheat were taken in Chicago for shipment. New York reports twenty-four loads taken there and 15,000 bushels bought for Antwerp. There are some bad crop reports in from Liverpool states that the Argentine surplus of wheat for export will not exceed 15,000,-B. $12.25. Double: AA, $20.50; A, $18.50; B, | 600 bushels. There was good buying around 661/2c and all offerings were quickly absorbed. The market was more professional B. $13.50. Double: AA, $21.50; A, $19.75; B, in tone than yesterday and no special significance was attached to any buying until that of Milmine-Bodman and New York-Jenkins developed, which was at once assumed to be for one interest. Bulls regard these quick reactions as a verification of their theory that this is a bull year and display no anxiety on the breaks. A coterie of local operators, Baker G. Smith and Kennett and others, whose holdings were taken on around 60c, have done consider-able trading without disturbing their ori-ginal purchases. There was a so-called cable from the United States consul at Buenos Ayres saying that the Argentine surplus would be as large as last year, but this cable was a quotation from a letter dated Jan. 21. The bears met no opposition to-day as there was absolutely no effort made to sustain prices. The bull leaders preferred to keep aloof and let selling take its course, hoping thereby to establish another short interest in the market. Puts. 66%c; calls, 67%c; curb, 66%c. Corn and Oats-These markets moved sympathy with wheat and lost a fraction of yesterday's advance. There was a large cash business in corn and the market closed

Previsions-Receipts of hogs at the yard tended to weaken prices for this commodity and other products followed the decline. Cudahy and Pardridge were good buyers later in the day and the market closed

The Indianapolis University. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: No movement of a public character for a long time has so commended itself to the approval of the whole city as that which proposes to unite the several professional schools and the Butler College of Liberal Arts under one general management, with a common interest, while each is serve its individual identity and call the combination the Indianapolis University. Not only will the individual interests of each

Let it be on an E Pluribus Unum of which not only Indianapolis, but the whole State, if not the whole Nation, should be proud. One feature of the proposed university will command the admiration of everybody It is not to bleed the State in order to live. The Butler College of Liberal Arts has asserted its right to live by nearly a half century of success. Its certificate of character is found in its alumni, who adorn the professions of the State, as well as commercial and business and political circles, with a class of learned men that will compare favorably with the graduates of any so-called university whose surviving depends upon liberal appropriations from the State treasury. The same is true of the law school. No one will dare claim that the teachers of the Indianapolis Law School graduates are less a success in life. It seems to me there are possibilities in this movement of which but few of us can at once have any adequate idea. The universal revolt of the laboring men of the country against the policy of taxing them to maintain a small school of the liberal arts and a small law school in an obscure and out-of-the-way town, while they must supplement its lack of capacity, not to mention other things, by taxing themselves to educate their own children in the profes-sions, will not be quieted by the success of the Indianapolis University. If it shall con-tribute to putting our so-called State Uni-versity on a level with other larger, not to say better schools, it will have done a good work. The details of the organization

THE LIE WAS PASSED

ATTORNEYS VARY THE MONOTONY OF THE ROOKER MURDER TRIAL.

Mr. Kenling's Words to sie-Case Will Go to the Jury Friday.

The Rooker murder case will probably reach the jury Friday evening. The first argument for the State was made yesterday by Deputy Prosecutor Alford, who speke five hours. Prior to the beginning of the argument a wordy war occurred between attorney Joseph Kealing, of the defense, and Prosecuting Attorney Wiltsie, in which the lie was passed. The trouble came up through a misunderstanding concerning Mrs. Stella Worthington, who testified early in the trial for the State. In resopnse to a declaration of attorney Wiltsie, the prisoner's representative intimated that the prosecutor had told a lie. Mr. Wiltsie sprang to his feet and started toward attorney Kealing's table, but both men were called down by the court. During the noon adjournment the attorneys met in the judge's room, where Mr. Kealing explained his position and apologized for his hasty utterance. Attorney Alford, after citing the different authorities bearing on insanity as an excuse for crime, placed the State's interpretation of the case before the jury. At the close his arrangement of the accused man was scathing. The State, he said, demanded the life of the prisoner, and he hoped the jury would have the courage to assess the death penalty. Rooker was unmoved throughout the spee Attorney Martin Hugg, of the defense, speak this morning. This afternoon Willard Robertson will address the jury on behalf of the prisoner. Attorney Kealing will close for the defense and Prosecutor Wiltsie for the

Her Seven Months of Bliss.

Divorce proceedings were brought in the Superior Court yesterday by Arestenia Lintner against Amos Lintner, the complaint setting up some unusual and serious allegations. The marriage of the Lintners too place Aug. 1, 1895, and the plaintiff says her husband began a systematic course of cruel treatment a few months after that date. She avers that he often struck her with his fist. He frequently knocked her down and kicked her, as a result of which times his cruelty would take a different turn and he would forbid her going on the street or visiting her relatives. Once he told her he would shoot her if she disobeyed in these particulars. She charges that the defendant sometimes locked her in the house, and again locked her out of the house in the cold. The plaintiff asks for alimony and wants her maiden name, Arestenia Hull, restored to her.

The Beckner Damage Suit. The damage suit of Hey H. Beckner against Frank E. Helwig, to recover for malicious prosecution, went to the jury at noon yesterday. The argument was confined to the plaintiff's side. Attorney, George W. Galvin spoke yesterday morn-ing, and attorney Ferd Winter was to have followed with an argument for the defendint. He declined to speak, however, explaining to the court that he was anxious to get through with the case, and, in order to save time, the defendant would waive his right to argument. The jury had not made a verdict at 5 o'clock last night. Run Down by Fast Driving. Josephine Livingston commenced action yesterday against Louis A. Griner to recover $10,000 damages for personal injuries. Jan. 1, of the present year, the plaintiff charges she was run over by a vehicle driven by the defendant at the corner of Meridian and Vermont streets. Griner, she says, was driving at a rate of speed much nigher than that permitted by the city ordinance. The plaintiff had two ribs fractured

Says He Had Another Wife. M. May Wilson asks the Superior Court to annul a marriage contract which she entered into three years ago with Charles Wilson. The couple were married at Paris, Ill., Aug. 11, 1892. In October of the same year Wilson deserted his wife, so the complaint avers. The plaintiff says that since the alleged abandonment she has learned that Wilson had a wife living when he was married to her. The plaintiff's maiden and avers that the right side of her chest
